Memorial Hall

We visited the memorial hall this week to celebrate the centenary.

It was a fabulous mini singing concert to mark 100 years of legacy, remembrance, and community. Over the past 100 years, it has stood as a silent witness to history, a place for reflection, celebration, and unity. Generations have passed through its doors – to mourn, to remember, to reflect and to learn. We marked this occasion with also thinking about the next 100 years and the memories the children can tell future generations.

Due to size of the hall, we were able to perform to a small group of invited guests. We were not able to extend the invitation to wider school community but do look out on Class Dojo for photos on Monday.

Testimonials

“Thank you so much for a wonderful concert. All the audience heaped many praises upon how good the children were and sang so beautifully.”

“This is a special thank you from me to you and the staff for a delightful concert yesterday.

You put a lot of hard work into it and it really paid off. It was special to hear the children singing the WWI medley.”

“Everyone had worked so hard to reach the high standard of the performance – spoken parts and songs, all performed with confidence and enthusiasm.”

“The children are a credit to the school and I’m sure they’re all recall this special afternoon each time they go past or in the Memorial Hall for years to come.”
